November 17. According to Nadya Zhivkova, Chief of the Party and Youth Organs Department of the Central Committee, "there are Party organizations in all okrugs [regional administrative units] which do not demonstrate sufficient initiative in fulfilling a number of tasks. . . . The standard of meetings is low; they deal with monotonous tasks of little interest to many Party members and fail to discuss problems of vital importance for the organization. . . . Data on the education of the Secretaries of the basic Party organizations . . . show that more than half of them have an elementary and basic school education or have not completed secondary school. Only 12 percent of the Secretaries have finished Party schools and courses. . . . There is an unjustified tendency . . . to try to get more jobs in the offices of Party Secretaries so that 'they can be more free.'" (Rabotnichesko Delo [Sofia], November 21.)

ROMANIA

1960 Plan Outlined

The economic plan for 1960 was outlined by Party boss Gheorghiu-Dej at the December 3-5 plenum of the Central Committee in Bucharest. Although 1960 is the first year of the new Six Year Plan (1960-1965), no long-term directives have been announced. Moreover, the exact meeting date of the coming Party Congress—which, according to Party law, should have taken place by the end of 1959—is also still to be unveiled. Gheorghiu-Dej said vaguely that the Congress would be held in the spring of 1960, when, presumably, the Six Year Plan targets will be presented.

The published targets for the 1960 plan call for higher rates of growth in the production of both industry and agriculture, as well as in investment outlay. Investment is set at 23.4 billion lei, or 34 percent above the 1959 planned figure. Industry's share increased slightly, from 53.9 percent planned for 1959 to 59 percent for 1960. Agricultural investment was also expanded by 18.7 percent, accentuating the trend of increased attention to the countryside. Total industrial production is scheduled to increase by 14 percent; heavy industry will rise 14.6 percent while light and consumer industries will grow by 13 percent. Percentage increases in the various industries were given as follows: ferrous-metallurgical, 28 percent; machine, 17; electrical, 20; chemical, 22. The rates of increase represent a continuation of the new industrial drive which began in the 1959 Plan, although the target rates of growth are more moderate than Bulgaria's "big leap forward."

State Farms Increase

According to Radio Bucharest (November 17), the number of State farms has increased from 487 early in 1959 to 522, and the agricultural land belonging to them has increased by 266,000 hectares. The State farms now own 1.6 million hectares of the country's agricultural land and 1.25 million hectares of the arable land, 11 and 13 percent respectively of the country's total.

The numerical increase is a part of the regime's reorganization program for the State farms, including the dividing of land into more economical units and regrouping of scattered plots. Radio Bucharest also announced that the Soviet-style mechanized brigades now total nearly 900.

ALBANIA

Amnesty

In honor of "liberation day," November 28, the Tirana regime announced an amnesty for all persons sentenced to prison for less than five years, and for those with more than five years imprisonment sentences were reduced by one-fourth. These were the main provisions of the decree but there were so many exceptions listed that it is hardly likely the Albanian prisons will be emptied. (Radio Tirana, November 25.)
